The Captivity and Restoration

Introduction

Recall that God had given the land of Canaan to the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob as a permanent possession. God told the people of Israel, however, that if they did not obey His commandments, but went after other gods to worship and serve, He would remove them from the land.

Remember also that when God made David king of Israel, He promised David that He would build him a “house” forever. The Lord promised David that He would establish the kingdom of Solomon, his son and successor, forever, if Solomon continued to do His commandments. Solomon failed to keep the commandments of the Lord, and his kingdom was divided under his son Rehoboam. The ten northern tribes became the Northern Kingdom. Only two tribes, Benjamin and Judah, continued with David’s “house” as the Southern Kingdom.

For two hundred years the kings of the Northern Kingdom led the people of Israel in wicked practices of idolatry. Finally God’s patience came to an end, and His people of the Northern Kingdom were captured by Assyria and taken from their land.

The conclusion of Zedekiah’s reign in Jerusalem brought to an end, after nearly five hundred years, the dynasty of David. God had promised David that if his children walked before Him in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, they would continue on the throne of Israel (then Judah).

After Josiah’s death in Judah, four successive kings—Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah—of the remaining kingdom walked in ways of apostasy and idolatry. Continuing attempts of the Lord by His prophets had failed to call His people to repentance and obedience. The dynasty of David came to an end, and the people of Judah were removed from the land. Like Assyria with the Northern Kingdom, Babylon had become God’s instrument of judgment upon the remaining kingdom. The Captivity would last seventy years, according to the prophet Jeremiah (Jeremiah 25:11).

In the successful completion of this LIFEPAK®, you will become better acquainted with the lives and ministries of three major prophets of the Old Testament: Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel. You will also learn how the ministries of three minor prophets affected the rebuilding of Jerusalem during the Restoration: Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. God was faithful to fulfill the promises given His people by the prophets.

In every period of history, God has required His people to walk before Him in faith. The kind of faith God required results in faithful obedience to His Word. When God’s people walk before Him in faith and faithfully obey His Word, they experience His blessing. When they fail to hear His voice and to keep His Word, they experience His judgment.

Our faith in God’s Word will be strengthened as we see how He was faithful to promise and to fulfill His promises. Study carefully the promises that have already been fulfilled, and rely completely upon those promises that are yet to be fulfilled. God’s Word is true. It is a history of His redemptive plan.

The first promise of a Messiah, or Savior, was given in Genesis 3:15. That promise was given again to Abraham—that through his seed (descendants) would come a blessing to the world—then to Isaac, to Jacob, and to the descendants of Jacob, the nation Israel. Among the sons of Jacob, the line of the Messiah was narrowed to Judah (Genesis 49:10). In the line of Judah was King David and the Messiah Himself, Jesus Christ.

Objectives

Read these objectives. The objectives tell you what you will be able to do when you have successfully completed this LIFEPAAC. When you have finished this LIFEPAAC, you should be able to:

1. Relate the prophet Jeremiah to his historical period.
2. Identify the “Branch of Righteousness” mentioned in Jeremiah 33:15.
3. List three major subjects discussed in the book of Jeremiah.
4. Describe the content of Lamentations.
5. Relate the prophet Ezekiel to his historical period.
6. Describe Ezekiel’s prophetic ministry to the captive people.
7. Briefly outline the content of the book of Ezekiel.
8. Relate the prophet Daniel to his historical period.
9. Identify the principal people to whom Daniel ministered.
10. Outline briefly the content of the book of Daniel.
11. Identify two Gentile kings used of God in the building of the Temple by the returned people.
12. Name the leaders of three returns from the Captivity to Israel.
13. Name two prophets of the Lord whose ministries contributed to the construction of the Temple in Jerusalem.
14. Tell the Old Testament story of Esther.
15. Discuss Nehemiah’s relationship to the king of Persia and his ministry to the returned people.
16. Identify three prophets of the Restoration.
17. Write the names and classify the thirty-nine books of the Old Testament.
18. Describe the Genesis account of Creation.
19. Review Old Testament history from Creation to Moses; from Joshua to Samuel; and from the beginning kingdom of Israel through the division of the kingdom, the Assyrian Captivity, the Babylonian Captivity, and the Restoration.

Survey the LIFE PAC. Ask yourself some questions about this study and write your questions here.

FINAL BOOKS OF THE OLD TESTAMENT

In this LIFEPAK you will complete your survey study of the Old Testament. You will be required to write the names of the thirty-nine books in the Old Testament and to identify the classification to which they belong. Prophets of the Captivity were Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel. Prophets during the Restoration were Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. The book of Esther gives the history of God's preservation of His people in Exile. The books of Ezra and Nehemiah record the history of the return from Exile and the rebuilding of Jerusalem.

1. THE CAPTIVITY

Jeremiah's prophetic ministry spanned a period of more than sixty years. He saw the destruction of Jerusalem and the Babylonian Captivity. His ministry continued into the Captivity period.

Two prophets of Judah in Exile were Ezekiel and Daniel. A brief study of the histories, ministries, and books of Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel will be included in this section.

Section Objectives

Review these objectives. When you have completed this section, you should be able to:

1. Explain Solomon's role in the division of the kingdom.
1. Relate the prophet Jeremiah to his historical period.
2. Identify the "Branch of Righteousness" mentioned in Jeremiah 33:15.
3. List three major subjects discussed in the book of Jeremiah.
4. Describe the content of Lamentations.
5. Relate the prophet Ezekiel to his historical period.
6. Describe Ezekiel's prophetic ministry to the captive people.
7. Briefly outline the content of the book of Ezekiel.
8. Relate the prophet Daniel to his historical period.
9. Identify the principal people to whom Daniel ministered.
10. Outline briefly the content of the book of Daniel.

Vocabulary

Study these words to enhance your learning success in this section.

apostasy (u pos' tu sē). A complete forsaking of one's religion or faith.

decree (di krē '). Something ordered or settled by authority; an official decision.

Exile (eg' zīl). The Babylonian Captivity of the Jews in the 500's B.C.

Messiah (mu sī' u). The Savior promised by God through the prophets; the Lord Jesus Christ.

remnant (rem' nunt). A small part left.

Restoration (res tu rā' shun). The return of the Jews to Israel around 537 B.C. (to restore is to bring back; to establish again).

revelation (rev u lā' shun). The act of making known or the thing made known. God's making known Himself and His will to mankind.

violate (vī u lā t). To break a law, rule, decree, agreement, or promise.

Note: All vocabulary words in this LIFEPAAC appear in boldface print the first time they are used. If you are unsure of the meaning when you are reading, study the definitions given.

Pronunciation Key: hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, ēqual, tērm; it, īce; hot, ōpen, ōrder; oil; out; cup, pūt, rüle; child; long; thin; /FH/ for then; /zh/ for measure; /u/ or /ə/ represents /a/ in about, /e/ in taken, /i/ in pencil, /o/ in lemon, and /u/ in circus.

JEREMIAH

Jeremiah was permitted by Babylon to remain in the land at the time of the Babylonian Captivity of Judah. The people who were left in Judah forced Jeremiah to accompany them to Egypt, where he died.

History. The history of Jeremiah’s time was introduced in the previous LIFEPAK and is recorded in 2 Kings 21–25. Before his birth, Jeremiah was chosen and set apart by God to be a prophet in Judah. Son of a priest, Jeremiah began his prophetic ministry during the reign of Josiah, king of Judah.

Manasseh, Josiah’s grandfather, had led Judah in the worst practices of wickedness and idolatry. Manasseh’s wickedness not only exceeded all previous wickedness of Judah and Israel in the land, but also the wickedness of the Canaanites before them. For a short period of time, Amon, son and successor of Manasseh, followed in the footsteps of his wicked father.

Josiah, son of Amon, became king of Judah at the early age of eight. In the eighth year of his reign, he began to seek the Lord. In the twelfth year of his reign, Josiah began to rid Jerusalem and Judah of the high places, idols, and idol altars. His reforms were extended also to the cities of the northern tribes.

Jeremiah began his ministry as a prophet in Judah in the thirteenth year of Josiah’s reign. He was a relative and probably a close advisor of Josiah. During the eighteenth year of Josiah’s reign, a book of the Law was found in the Temple, which was being repaired. Through priests, prophets, and His Word, God prepared Josiah spiritually and used him mightily among His people.

Apparently Josiah’s reforms had cleansed the land, but not the hearts of the people.

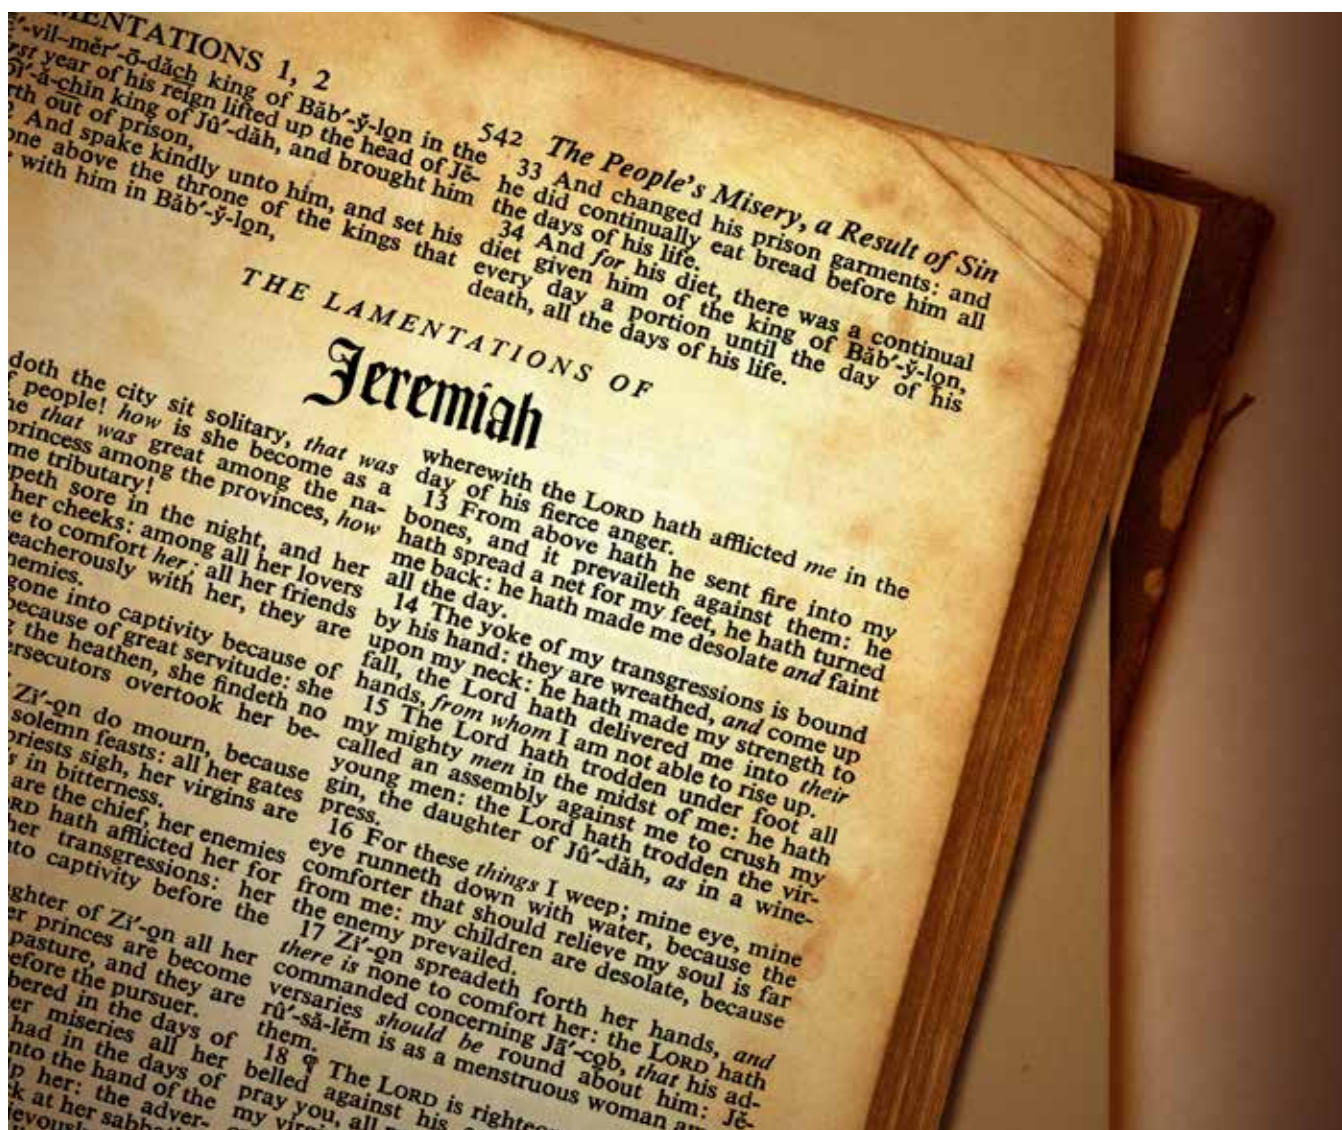

When Josiah died, Judah returned again to apostasy and idolatry, which continued during the reign of the last four kings in Judah and until the fall of Jerusalem and the Babylonian Captivity.

Complete the following statements.

- 1.1 Jeremiah was chosen and set apart by God before his _____ to be a prophet in Judah.
- 1.2 Josiah became king of Judah at the age of _____.
- 1.3 Josiah began to seek the Lord in the _____ year of his reign.
- 1.4 Jeremiah began his ministry as a prophet in Judah during the _____ year of Josiah's reign.
- 1.5 Apparently Josiah's reforms had cleansed the land, but not the _____ of the people.

Ministry. Jeremiah witnessed the cleansing of the land by Josiah, and he probably recognized that the people’s hearts were not cleansed. He saw in Judah a nation wise to do evil, but without knowledge to do good. The rich oppressed the poor. The prophets prophesied falsely. The priests conducted their ministry for hire. All these wicked ways were approved by the people. This theme was repeated in Jeremiah’s messages (8:10 and 11), “...from the prophet even unto the priest everyone dealeth falsely... saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.”

For twenty-three years Jeremiah faithfully proclaimed the word of the Lord. He warned the people of Judah that they would be given over to Babylon and that resistance to this nation, God’s instrument of judgment, would only lead to more severe judgment.

In prison during the fourth year of Jehoiakim and the twenty-third year of Jeremiah’s ministry, Jeremiah wrote a scroll and sent it by his servant to be read at the Temple. When the king heard about the scroll, he sent for it to be read in his presence. Sitting before the fire in his winter house, Jehoiakim listened only briefly to the reading of Jeremiah’s scroll. He cut it in pieces and threw it into the fire because it predicted the Babylonian Captivity. In a second scroll, Jeremiah added a prediction of Jehoiakim’s death. His end came just as Jeremiah had predicted.

Jeremiah suffered severely at the hands of King Zedekiah and his princes because he prophesied the destruction of Jerusalem and promised life only to those who would surrender to the Babylonians. During the period of terrible suffering inflicted by Zedekiah and the nobles of Judah, Jeremiah prophesied the salvation of Judah and Jerusalem by the “Branch of Righteousness.” The “Branch of Righteousness”

| Jehoiakim threw Jeremiah’s scroll into the fire would grow out of David and would establish judgment and righteousness in the land (Jeremiah 33:15). This prophecy will be fulfilled in the Lord Jesus Christ, heir to the throne of David (Luke 1:30–33).

Jeremiah ministered to the captives in Babylon by letter, to the remnant remaining with him in Judah after the Captivity, and to the remnant in Egypt where they fled in disobedience to God’s clear word by Jeremiah.

Books. In the book by his name, Jeremiah predicted the Babylonian Captivity and its length of 70 years. He recorded the history of Jerusalem being destroyed and of the people of Judah taken captive to Babylon. He also wrote about his ministry to the remnant in Judah and later in Egypt.

The book of Lamentations was written by Jeremiah after the fall of Judah. The content of this book reveals Jeremiah’s great sorrow at the fall of Judah and the destruction of Jerusalem.

Answer the following questions.

1.6 Why did Jehoiakim cut to pieces and burn the scroll written by Jeremiah? _____

1.7 What was added by Jeremiah to his second scroll? _____

1.8 Why did Jeremiah suffer severely at the hands of Zedekiah and his princes? _____

1.9 Who is the “Branch of Righteousness” mentioned in Jeremiah 33:15? _____

1.10 How did Jeremiah minister to the captives in Babylon? _____

1.11 What were three major subjects about which Jeremiah wrote in the book by his name?

a. _____

b. _____

c. _____

1.12 What does the content of Lamentations reveal? _____

EZEKIEL

Taken captive to Babylon with Jehoiachin, Ezekiel became a prophet to his people in Exile.

History. Ezekiel was born in Judah, probably during the reign of Josiah. Like Jeremiah, Ezekiel was the son of a priest. He was most likely influenced both by the reforms of Josiah and by the ministry of Jeremiah. Ezekiel was among the more noble and wealthy who were taken captive with Jehoiachin.

Some captives were imprisoned, some were enslaved, and others were permitted to live in settlements. Ezekiel was among those allowed to live in settlements. His home was in Tel-abib by the river (or canal) Chebar. In their settlements, the captive Jews apparently were permitted to have some local government and to hear the word of their God by His prophet.

With the destruction of Jerusalem in 586 B.C.—the city and the Temple—and the fall of the kingdom, Jeremiah, the last prophet of Judah, began to fade into the background. Ezekiel emerged as the prophet of the Exile.

Ministry. Ezekiel was called to his prophetic ministry in the fifth year of his captivity. He ministered the word of the Lord to the captive people.

Ezekiel pointed out the idolatry of the people. For idolatry they had been removed from the land and their Holy City had suffered violence and destruction. Ezekiel's effort was to bring the nation in exile back to God and His covenant with Isaac, with Jacob, and with the nation Israel. God had established the royal line of His kingdom with David. He had given David an unconditional promise of an everlasting kingdom. His dynasty would continue only conditionally, however.

With the Assyrian Captivity, and now the fall of Judah, the nation of Israel had ceased to exist. Had God broken His covenant? God's message to His captive people by His prophet was assurance that He had not forgotten them. The scattered people would be gathered again. God would make a new covenant with them. They would be cleansed. The seventy years of Captivity would be fulfilled. Then a remnant would be restored to the land. The Temple would be rebuilt by a new, believing generation. God would finally restore the throne of David to his descendant, the Messiah, our Lord Jesus Christ.

Book. The book of Ezekiel has been described as a kind of personal prophetic diary, a picture of Ezekiel's prophetic life, his prophetic autobiography. In chapters 1 – 24, the major message is the judgment of God in the destruction of Jerusalem. Chapters 25–32 contain Ezekiel's prophecies concerning the Gentile nations — that God will judge those nations and their gods. In the remaining chapters 33–48, Ezekiel continued with his prophetic mission to the captive people: The Shepherd would gather His flock, and the line of David would be restored in the coming kingdom.

Write the correct letter and answer on each line.

DANIEL

In early life, Daniel was taken to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar among the first captives taken from Judah. Like Ezekiel, Daniel became a prophet of the Exile.

History. During the reign of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, certain choice young people of royal descent and with outstanding abilities were taken captive to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar. Among those noble youths were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. The names of Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah were changed in Babylon to Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego respectively. These able young people were appointed to a three-year training period for service in the king's court. Part of their daily provisions were a portion of the king's meat and wine.

Desiring to observe faithfully the Law of Moses, Daniel requested the officials to assign them to a test period of ten days on just a vegetable and water diet. The officials in charge were surprised at the miraculous effects noticed in Daniel and his friends during those ten days. When they were presented to the king at the close of their training period, Daniel and his companions were found by the king to be ten times wiser than all the magicians and astrologers in his kingdom.

Under Nebuchadnezzar, Daniel advanced to the highest position in the province of Babylon; and he was placed in charge of all the wise men of Babylon. Under Belshazzar, son and second successor of Nebuchadnezzar, Daniel became third ruler in the kingdom. Darius, the first Medo-Persian ruler, appointed Daniel one of three princes over all 120 governors of his kingdom. Daniel continued in this position when Cyrus became king of Medo-Persia. Daniel lived through the seventy years of Captivity and the beginning of the return to Canaan by the remnant of Judah.

Read Daniel 2, 5, and 6

Ministry. Daniel was a prophet of God, both to God's captive people and to Gentile kings.

In the second year of his reign in Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed a dream which he could not even recall when he awoke. Nebuchadnezzar demanded that his wise men provide him with both his forgotten dream and the interpretation of it. Angry because his wise men could not do what he asked, Nebuchadnezzar ordered that all the wise men be killed.

Daniel requested more time from the king. Then he asked his companions to pray with him about the problem. When you have a problem, the first and best thing to do is to pray about it (Philippians 4:6 and 7). In a night vision, God revealed to Daniel both Nebuchadnezzar's dream and the interpretation of it. When he told the king his dream and the interpretation of it, Daniel praised the God of heaven for revealing it to him. Nebuchadnezzar acknowledged Daniel's God as the "God of gods and the Lord of kings." He then promoted Daniel, making him ruler over all the province of Babylon and placing him in charge of all the wise men of Babylon.

Belshazzar, a successor of Nebuchadnezzar, held a great feast. At the feast King Belshazzar drank wine from the gold and silver vessels that were taken from the house of the Lord in Jerusalem. The Lord was not pleased with Belshazzar's act. Therefore, He caused the fingers of a man's hand to appear and to write on the wall in the presence of Belshazzar. Belshazzar was terrified. He called for the wise men of Babylon to read the writing for him. He said that whoever read the strange writing would become third ruler in his kingdom. When none of the wise men called could read the writing, the queen reminded Belshazzar of Daniel. Daniel was called, and he read the writing on the wall and told the king the interpretation of it. The writing foretold the fall of the Babylonian Empire and the end of Belshazzar's reign that very night.

Darius of the Medes took the kingdom of Babylon that same night and ruled as king over the united kingdom of the Medes and Persians.

Answer the following questions.

- 1.26 Why did Daniel request the Babylonian officials to assign him and his companions a special diet? _____
- 1.27 In what condition did the king find Daniel and his companions at the end of the training period? _____

Match the following items.

Complete the following statements.

- 1.31 Daniel was a prophet of God both to God's captive people and to _____ kings.
- 1.32 Nebuchadnezzar demanded that his wise men tell him both his forgotten a. _____ and the b. _____ of it.
- 1.33 A successor of Nebuchadnezzar, a king of Babylon who saw the finger of a man's hand write strange writing on his wall, was named _____ .
- 1.34 The kingdom of Babylon was taken by Darius, a a. _____ , who ruled over the united kingdom of the b. _____ and Persians.

Complete the following activity.

1.35 Using your imagination, place yourself at the feast of Belshazzar in Babylon. Observe the strange sight of the fingers of a man’s hand appearing out of nowhere and writing on the wall in the king’s presence. Describe the reaction of the king and the events of the evening. Include some of your own feelings. Share your paper with your teacher or any person or group that your teacher may suggest.

Under Darius, Daniel was made first president of three over all 120 princes that ruled the entire kingdom. The other presidents and princes were jealous of Daniel. They plotted against Daniel and secured a decree from Darius that none could worship any god or man except Darius for thirty days. Anyone who violated the decree would be thrown into a den of lions.

Daniel was faithful to his God. He continued his practice of kneeling in his room three times a day and praying to his God. The law of the Medes and Persians could not be altered. Therefore, the king had to enforce the law. King Darius also acknowledged his faith in Daniel’s God (Daniel 6:16): “...Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.”

King Darius was seriously concerned for Daniel. He spent a sleepless night fasting.

When he found Daniel alive and well the following morning, the king was very glad. He commanded his servant to take Daniel out of the lions’ den. King Darius then commanded that Daniel’s accusers be taken and cast into the den of lions. He sent a decree throughout his kingdom (Daniel 6:26–28):

I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end. He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

| The Den of Lions

Daniel had a good ministry both to Darius the Mede and to Cyrus the Persian. He also had an effective ministry to God’s people in Exile, to the returning remnant, and to believers in every successive era.

Probably from the prophet Jeremiah, Daniel had learned that the length of the Babylonian Captivity would be seventy years. Those years were almost fulfilled, and Daniel asked the Lord to give him the details of his people’s return to their land. The Lord revealed to Daniel the details of their return and Restoration as well as an outline of their entire future—to the end of the age (Daniel 9:20–27).

Answer the following questions.

1.36 Why did the other presidents plot against Daniel? _____

1.37 What decree did the other presidents secure from Darius that would affect Daniel? _____

1.38 How did Daniel respond to the decree? _____

1.39 How did King Darius acknowledge his faith in Daniel's God? _____

1.40 What was King Darius' attitude and what did he do when he found Daniel alive and well the following morning? _____

Book. Daniel’s revelation from the Lord came during “the times of the Gentiles,” which began with the fall of the kingdom and the destruction of the Temple and Jerusalem. Daniel wrote as an officer of the Babylonian state and chief of the wise men, not as a member of the Jewish community in Exile. God had raised up Gentile rulers to judge His people, and He anointed Daniel to minister to those rulers and to His people.

The book of Daniel falls into two divisions: history (1–6) and prophecy (7–12). For the purpose of this LIFEPAK, the content of the history division (1–6) has been adequately covered in the preceding pages. In chapter 7 Daniel’s vision of the four beasts represented the four world kingdoms, beginning with Nebuchadnezzar himself. His vision of a ram and a goat in chapter 8 represented Medo-Persia (ram) and Greece (goat).

Daniel’s seventy weeks in chapter 9 refer to seventy weeks of years, or 490 years. Daniel used the Hebrew term for week, a period of seven days, to refer to a period of seven years. After seven weeks (forty-nine years) from the decree of Cyrus to rebuild Jerusalem, the city would be rebuilt. In sixty-two more weeks (434 years) the Messiah would be cut off—Christ would be rejected and crucified; and after one additional week (seven years), when time is counted again with God’s people in the land, God will bring everlasting righteousness (9:24). Chapters 10–12 give more details about the history of the Gentile kingdoms, particularly Greece, and refer to certain end-time events: for example, the Great Tribulation (12:1) and the Resurrection (12:2).
